Annual Meeting on Reaction Engineering and ProcessNet Division Heat and Mass Transfer 2022

www.processnet.org/REACT_HMT_2022

PROCESSNET

The meeting in 2022 is jointly organized by the ProcessNet Subject Divisions Reaction Engineering and Heat and Mass Transfer. The conference offers scientists from industry, research institutions and universities the opportunity to discuss their work in person, learn about the latest developments and expand their network.

One focus of the upcoming meeting will be laid on new insights into the complex interplay of heat and mass transport as well as reaction kinetics in chemical reactors.

This is closely related to the second focus, which will be on reactor as well as heat exchanger diagnostics. Time- and spatially-resolved analysis of flow, temperature and concentration fields, supported by increasingly detailed multi-scale modeling has made amazing progress in recent years.

The third focus is on the electrification of chemical processes, which will become an increasingly important contribution to the goal of a climate-neutral society in Germany by 2045.

Four plenary lectures given by renowned scientists, a poster party and a conference dinner will provide the framework for stimulating discussions and talks. We are looking forward to welcoming you in Würzburg.
